Dear Colleagues,

The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences is committed to having diversity in its residents, fellows, staff, and faculty and to creating an environment that will allow all department members to succeed and find fulfillment in their work. We are conducting a second climate survey to compare the climate now to the results of the 2015 climate survey. The 2015 results were very helpful in identifying opportunities for improving diversity through the medical student diversity sub-internship, encouraged the development of a training program for mentors, and helped us begin addressing the issue of burnout. Upon the suggestion of department faculty and consistent with the broader UW effort to address sexual harassment, this survey has additional questions on sexual harassment and hostile work environment and will be distributed to staff in addition to faculty. We believe the results will help identify opportunities for cultivating a more inclusive and supportive work environment.

We are asking each of you to complete the following survey, estimated to take 12-15 minutes. Names and contact information will not be linked to the survey and all efforts to protect confidentiality will be made. Answers to open-ended questions are captured verbatim and will be summarized for presentation to the committee. Please note, you may skip any question that you are concerned would individually identify you.

Sincerely,

Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences Diversity Committee

Question 21.
Sexual harassment is a form of harassment characterized by:

1) Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature by a person who has authority over the recipient when:
   a) Submission to such conduct is made either an implicit or explicit condition of the individual's employment, academic status, or ability to use University facilities and services, or
   b) Submission to or rejection of the conduct is used as the basis for a decision that affects tangible aspects of the individual's employment, academic status, or use of University facilities; or

2) Unwelcome and unsolicited language or conduct that is of a sexual nature and that is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive that it could reasonably be expected to create an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or learning environment, or has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic or work performance.
This also includes acts of sexual violence, such as sexual assault and sexual exploitation.
